(Landscape Gardening) Two yards laid off and planted according to instructions furnished by agent. Thirteen lawns mowed, 151 yards beautified.

Community Work.

Camden County: Mrs. M. A. Harris, Home Demonstration Agent reported: "The District Agent visited the county this month to look over the work and to give help and encouragement to the same. She visited the home of a family who three years ago, lived in a shanty on a turpentine farm. By the help and encouragement of the home demonstration agent (who often during her visits over the county, had to stop in that shanty and spend the night) this man and his wife were encouraged to buy and build their own home. He bought 6 acres of land and built a five room cottage with front and back porches, vegetable and flower gardens. Now she is trying to get the other women in the community to improve their home life."

Jackson County: Mrs. M. R. Torbert, Home Demonstration Agent reported: "Ten Jackson County farmers have entered the 5 acre contest."

Polk County: Mrs. Lovie Lyles, Home Demonstration Agent reported: "Better Homes Week was observed this month at Rockmart and Cedartown. At Rockmart, we set up a girl's bed room for exhibition. Then each girl set up a bed room at her home. May 14-17, a contest was held, the judges being Mrs. Lee and Miss Emma Crab, the chairman of the Rockmart District: Lula Nettle won first honor, Victory McGinnis, second honor. They were scored on the most sanitary bed room."

"At Cedartown, Better Homes Week was observed by remodeling and cleaning the A. M. E. Church.

"From this demonstration, 21 other churches have been cleaned. We also held a bread making contest during Better Homes Week between Rockmart High School and Cedartown High School. Sixteen teams took part in the contest. First honor went to Cedartown in making biscuits. First honor went to Rockmart in making corn meal muffins."

Miss Zella Philips (white demonstration agent) judged the bread and said a great improvement had been made since the first contest which was held on the 4th day of April."

Adult Short Courses.
